Dear Ochapowace Post Secondary Students,

Re: Student Research Assistant

The Ochapowace Nation is looking for a Post Secondary Student to assist with research activities for a project on the social impacts of flooding on a First Nation community. Duties may include; scheduling and assisting interviews with community members; assisting with interview analysis; organizing other community-based research activities (e.g., group discussions; Participatory GIS); writing up reports and findings in formats determined by the community and research team.

Research activities will occur at the University of Regina campus and the Ochapowace First Nation. Travel to Ochapowace is required as part of this position.

This position is a total of 24 hours during the Winter 2018 semester, with possibility of extension into Spring/Summer 2018. Due to the nature of research activity hours will not be equally distributed throughout this period. As of now we are working on a work plan and dates for this project.

If you are interest in this position or have questions please feel free to contact Cortney Bear (306) 696-3160 or cortney.bear@ochapowace.ca.

Respectfully,

OCHAPOWACE NATION
